A photograph of the Hotel Comte de Nice at night. The building's facade is dark, with several windows illuminated from within, casting a warm orange glow. The windows have white frames and some have small balconies. In the center, a semi-circular sign is illuminated, featuring the text 'HOTEL' in an arch, two stars, and 'COMTE DE NICE' in a horizontal bar below. A flag is visible on a pole in front of the building.

A nighttime photograph of a coastal promenade. In the center, a sign with the word 'CASTEL' in a stylized font is mounted on a metal frame. The sign is illuminated from below. To the left, a dark body of water is visible, with a long, thin light reflecting on its surface. In the background, a city skyline is lit up with various lights. To the right, there are palm trees and other vegetation, also illuminated. A blue metal railing runs along the promenade in the foreground. Two tall, thin poles are visible on the left side of the frame.
